About Danna Beal, M.Ed.

AUTHOR DANNA BEAL, business consultant and international speaker has been conducting her groundbreaking workshop series, "Healing the Workplace Culture", and keynotes on, "Enlightened Leadership: Restoring Trust and Compassion" to leaders and employees in a multitude of industries throughout the United States and Canada.

Ms. Beal has been a keynote speaker and workshop leader for over twenty years. Boldly addressing the ego drama, internal rivalry and fear in so many workplaces, she reveals a path for creating a safe and trusting workplace environment where all people work at their highest potential. Her clients have included hospitals, physician practices, CPA and law firms, automobile dealerships, government, insurance agencies, non-profits, retail businesses and banks. She has been on over 50 radio and TV talk shows discussing her new model for enlightened leadership and co-operative workplaces.

She holds a B.A. from WSU and a M.Ed. From Whitworth College.
